

PIETRACOLATA LAVA-STONE

A SICILIAN DREAM

In 2013, an entrepreneur and an architect came together with a shared vision: to harness the potential of lava stone and transform it into bespoke, unique products. Combining technical expertise with artistic creativity, they launched an ambitious project to sculpt, screen print, and integrate lava stone with various materials, fusing surfaces and volumes shaped by cooled magma. The outcome was Pietracolata, an innovative concept that redefines materiality and living, offering a distinctive experience designed for the home.

TOP AND COATING

Top and cladding in screen-printed lava stone

Screen-printed lava stone surfaces deliver exceptional quality and uniqueness, with each piece showcasing its distinct color variation. Pietracolata claddings blend aesthetics with durability, making them ideal for kitchens, bathrooms, and living spaces. The top surfaces are functional and easy to maintain but also versatile, adapting to a wide range of applications.

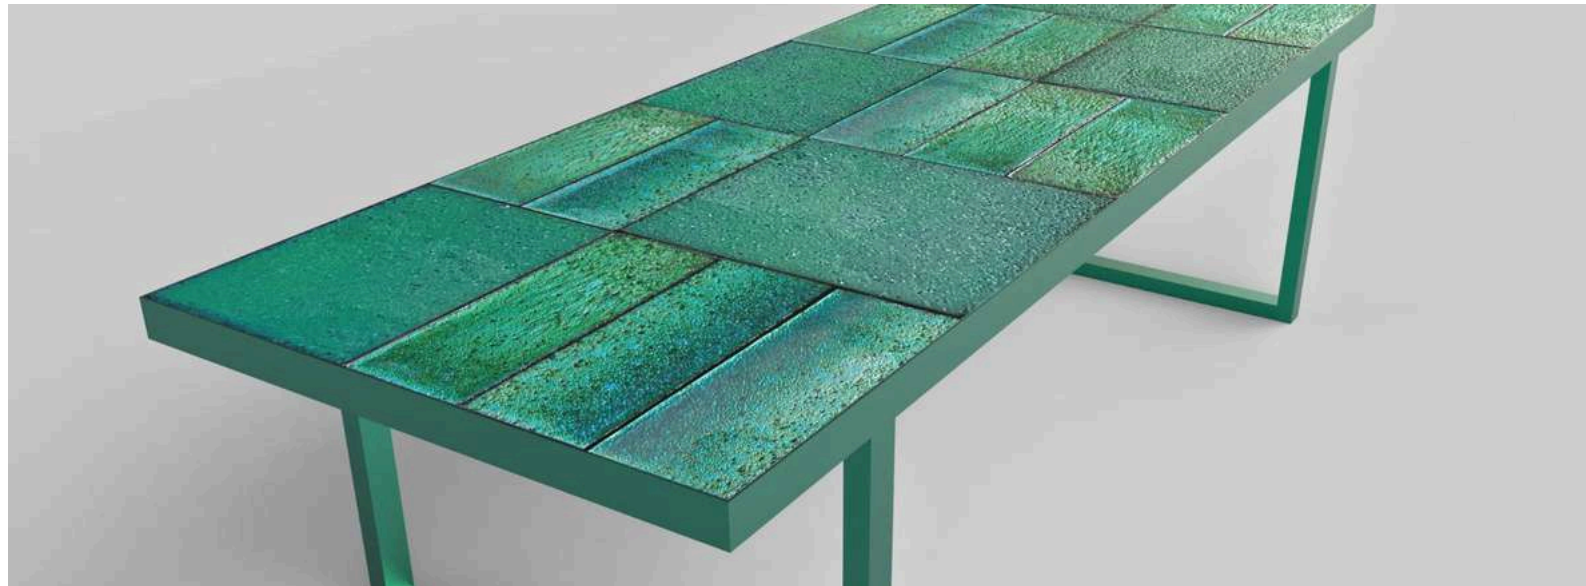

PATTERN

- Coverings designed for kitchens, bathrooms, living areas, and more, are made from premium materials sourced from the volcano Mount Etna.
- Each product is meticulously crafted by combining natural materials with expert precision.
- Customization options, including bespoke crafting services, are available to tailor each piece to your specific needs.

TABLES

Tables play a key role in the home, enhancing functionality and aesthetic appeal while adding a unique character to each space. We provide solutions in various shapes, sizes, and materials to elevate any environment with style. The Pietracolata table is a perfect balance between clean lines and creative expression, embodying the essence of its geographical origins.

FUCINA

Inspired by the word "Fucina," meaning "forge," this collection of artisanal lava stone tableware accessories embodies the spirit of craftsmanship. These products serve as a tribute to the forged creations of the mythological figure Hephaestus, showcasing the raw, natural beauty of the material.
